The Joe Joe Bear Foundation provides new teddy bears to children with life threatening illnesses while in the hospital.

Because of the 80% increase in cost of bears since the pandemic, raising funds to provide teddy bears to critically ill children is needed now more than ever. Teddy bears become a lifeline by being able to go places parents cannot. Each teddy bear becomes a best friend so that child feels less lonely and afraid while receiving their treatments or surgeries.

In the past 12 years, because of generous supporters like you, the Joe Joe Bear Foundation has provided over 38,000 bears to sick children. Over 5,000 bears are given to critically ill children every year.
